Dear Parents,

We are getting back into the routine of things here at school. The kids seemed excited to be back and had lots to share about their winter break. Writing is a skill that we are continuing to work on. If you notice your child writing a letter starting at the bottom line, have them rewrite it starting at the top. We want them to establish good habits. This week the spelling homework will include writing 3 sentences. We will practice here at school so they will know what is expected. We will be looking for complete sentences with capitals and punctuation. It should also be written in their best handwriting. ☺ We have started a social studies unit on Communities. We will be ending with a fun “family” project toward the end of January. More information to follow. We will be doing some mid-year assessments during January both for math and reading. Remember reading every night is so important for developing readers, you can read to them, they can read to you or you can read together. Please let me know if you have any concerns or questions.

Up Coming Events:

Monday, Jan. 21-No school-teacher work day

Have a wonderful week!

Paula ☺
