Dear Families,

This week in reading we have started focusing on biographies. We learned what things are usually included in a biography. We read, and then compared and contrasted, biographies about Galileo and Albert Einstein. For our writing we continued working hard on our scarecrow stories. Most of us are working on our final copies now. We’ve also continued to learn about the lives of the pioneers. We learned a lot on our great field trip to Gibb’s Farm. We saw a tipi, a bark house, a sod house, and a one room school house. On Thursday the kids will be walking in the Harvest Parade after lunch. They will not wear their costumes to school. Also, no makeup, hair color, or costume weapons are allowed at school. Please be aware of keeping the costumes non-violent.
