Dear Families,

It’s been a busy week here in the Savannah. We are doing Article a Day where we read a nonfiction article and then write two interesting facts about it in our Book of Knowledge. This is designed to help us build background knowledge, increase our vocabulary, and strengthen our reading and writing stamina. This week’s articles have been about ecosystems. We’ve learned about the Everglades, the rainforest, and invasive species. In science we have created our own plant and written about where it lives, how it survives, and how it pollinates. In art class we listened to a story about a scarecrow, and then we drew our own. Next week we will write a story from the scarecrow’s point of view.
