Dear Families,

This week has been a busy one filled with many exciting projects. We have finished learning about the different regions of the United States and now have chosen a state to study more in-depth. We will be doing research and creating a book about that state to share with our classmates. Almost all of us have completed our Flat Stanley final letters and have addressed the envelopes. We should be ready to take a walk down to the post office on Monday or Tuesday to mail them out! We’ve also jumped into our study of the Iditarod. We read a nonfiction story about the history of the race, some of the mushers, and their dog teams. We also researched different mushers online and have chosen our favorites that we will follow throughout the race. Unfortunately, it was just too cold this morning for us to go to River Bend for the snowshoeing trip. We have rescheduled for this coming Friday, March 6th. Please make sure next Friday to send something like a scarf or facemask to cover the children’s cheeks. That was our main area of concern this morning, that there were a lot of exposed faces. We can handle the cold and have fun if we come prepared!
